2 Announcing Candidacy for State Senate

John H. Carter

John H. Carter is announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination as a candidate for the State Senate in the primary election. He has served this district in the House of Representatives the last two terms, and three years as a Selectman of Bethel.

After graduating from Gould Academy in 1906, Mr. Carter was in the employ of the Brown Company 40 years. For 38 years he was woods manager of pulpwood operations in Canada. Since retirement to his home here in 1946, besides making an excellent record in his duties as a town official he has been in much demand as a land surveyor.

He is an active member and worker in the Congregational Church, Lions Club, and Chamber of Commerce.

Carleton S. Fuller

Carleton S. Fuller of Buckfield has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for one of the State Senate seats from Oxford County in the June primary election. He served his district in the House of Representatives in 1947 and 1949 and as State Senator in the 1951 legislature.

Graduated from Leavitt Institute in 1911 and Bates College in 1913, Mr. Fuller was engaged for 28 years in school work. Twenty-six years were spent as principle of high schools in Buckfield, South Paris, Port Fairfield, and Bar Harbor. Since 1945 he has been an orchardist in Buckfield.

He served in the Navy in World War I, and is a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Masons. He is president of the Maine Apple Growers' Association and vice-president of the

CLARENCE W. JUDKINS

Clarence W. Judkins died suddenly Wednesday noon while starting his car at the home of the late Prof and Mrs William R. Chapman, where he had been employed the past 18 years. He had been in poor health for several years.

He was born in Norway June 26, 1881, the son of Elwin and Ida M. Noyes Judkins, and had lived in Bethel the greater part of his life.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Georgia Butters, and two grandchildren of Bethel, and a cousin, Fanlie Frost of Norway.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. from the Greenleaf Funeral Home.

FIREFMEN MEET AT LOCKE MILLS MONDAY NIGHT

A delicious supper put on by the Auxiliary preceded the meeting of the Western Maine Firemen's Association in the town hall at Locke Mills, Monday evening.

President Bob Blake of Bethel called the meeting to order at 8:15 with the reading of the record of the previous meeting by Secretary Charles Freeman. Roll call showed 14 towns represented as follows:

Bethel 11; Bridgton 2; Bryant Pond 6; Buckfield 1; Fryeburg 4; Harrison 7; Hirram 2; Locke Mills 16; Norway 2; South Paris 4; Augusta 1; Houston (Texas) 1; West Paris 3; Waterville 1. Total 72.

It was voted last month in Hirham to write a letter to Casco suggesting that that town not abandon their fire department. Asst. Chief Denison of Harrison read the letter which was written.

It was voted to hold the May meeting in Bryant Pond.

Austin H. Wilkins, Deputy Forest Commissioner, told of the "forest fire compact," a mutual aid agreement between the New England States and parts of Canada. He also explained the historical forest fires which Maine has experienced since 1761. Another interesting topic of his speech was the explanation of the woods ban and how it may be enforced by the Governor at any time it is deemed necessary.

Movien on log driving was shown for the first time to the group.

The next meeting will be held at the new Conway fire station on Monday, March 17.

MOST HIGHWAYS PASSABLE IN SPITE OF WINDS, SNOW

Although other Maine communities received much greater snowfall, the arrival of about seven inches here Monday followed by high winds was enough to block many roads in the vicinity and cause a train wreck. Schools were closed Wednesday as roads filled faster than plows could make their rounds and near zero cold made the work no easier.

IT SNOWED

A day or two ago it snowed. And then it snowed some more. But most of us around these parts Had seen the stuff before.

Some years we have two, three, four feet; Other years it's more or less, But come what may as the years roll 'round

We're bound to get a mess.

"Before my time," I understand, The storms were really whoppers But the one we had on Tuesday last Proved to be a freight train stopper.

Yes, without doubt, the olden winters

Were something to behold And this beat the kids in '99 The same tall tales were told.

JANUARY UNEMPLOYMENT UP —NEED DRIVERS, WOODSMEN

Unemployment increased about 26 percent in the Rumford area during January according to an operational statistics released by Manager Ernest F. Lever, Jr., of the Maine Employment Security office at 244 Waldo Street, Bethel. In the area served by the Rumford MESC office

The area includes much of Franklin county and the northern half of Oxford.

At the close of January business Lever said 291 unemployed, or partially unemployed, workers were seeking jobs through facilities of his office, an increase of 77 over the 214 seeking work as the year began. At one time during January, with two areas woodworking mills down, the active file climbed to 425. A shortage of qualified woodsmen, for long lumber operations, continues. Truck drivers and truck driver-owners, are also in demand.

The woodworking industry, according to Lever, fluctuated last month, but at the close of January business had become stabilized, was operating at "nearly normal production level."

Job placements—114 for January increased 36 percent over December placements, Lever said. Placements included 68 women and eight veterans.

The Rumford MESC office received orders for 96 workers last month. At the close of the month business 833 openings, largely in the logging industry, were unfilled.

Employment prospects for the next few months appear "a little brighter than was true in the three previous months" Lever said.

"Providing the weather is such that wood can be hauled to wood working plants, this industry should operate at top production for the next few months."

"It is expected that a labor shortage will develop in early spring as we have a large number of road jobs scheduled to begin at that time."

BERLIN DEFEATS GOULD, 57-32

After playing a good first half, holding Berlin to a 20-20 score, the Gould basketkets fell apart and were beaten 57-32. Captain Henri Agnew was greatly missed. His knee injury will keep him out of the final game of the season against Gorham, also. Johnson was the leading scorer for the Huskies with nine points. Paul Sullivan and Hansen led the winners with 13 and 10 points respectively.

The Gould JV's behind 10-7 at the half put up a game fight as they brought the score to 26-24 in the last period only to have Berlin rally and finally win 43-24. Fossett and Butler with 11 and 9 points, led the underclass while Berlin's Twitchell scored 16.

The Gould teams will make their final appearance of the season Friday at Gorham where the varsity will meet the still undefeated Gorham club. The Huskies will be at low strength with Captain Agnew out and also minus the services of Biden, who has quit the squad. This will necessitate the bringing up of Fossett and White from the JV's and thus weakening that team also.

The LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Nice and quiet and law abiding citizens, I am going to the mat with you today—so lend an ear—and don't get mad, yet, if I select you as a carefree or neglectful culprit. To be law-abiding and quiet a grand trait—it demonstrates that you are real people. But with the raucous and uncouth and unscrupulous plunderers that are afoot in the land, it is time to become vocal—to unlimber the shoot-in irons—to take part in the fray.

To mix it with the gentry who are going through your billfold, as the country nears the Falls, like the Roman Empire before us.

Now, nice people, you know precisely and exactly what all us you know that a full fledged Europe-type free spending Socialist Govt. hovers over our Nation, made up in welfare regalia and promising security right up and into the undertaker's front door. You save all this—100 per cent. But what you do. You never take your pen in hand and write your senator.

Most senators are pretty good at reading—even between the lines.

Miss Irene Millett was taken to the CMG Hospital where she underwent surgery Sunday afternoon.

Miss Rosalie Buck of Boston spent the week end with her mother, Mrs Bertha Buck, and grandmother, Mrs Winnie Ridlon.

Miss Mary Tamminen underwent surgery at the St. Mary's Hospital, Lewiston, last week.

Edwin Phillips of New York City

returned home Thursday after visiting at the home of Mr and Mrs

Harlan Childs.

Mrs Ernest Gammon was taken to the CMG Hospital, Lewiston, on Monday night.

... wherever women get together, the new motion picture, "Breast Self-Examination" is news! ... at neighborhood and civic centers ... in factories and business offices ... at social, fraternal and service group meetings, we are showing this film to countless thousands of American women.

Since 80-90% of those who have breast cancer could be cured, we are dedicated to showing every woman in this land what she herself can do to protect herself against death from this disease.

If you don't know where you can see this film, telephone the American Cancer Society office nearest you, or address your letter to "Cancer" in care of your local Post Office. An ACS educational program may save the lives of many of your neighbors, fellow-workers or friends.

MAJOR RICCI GETS THIRD

OAK LEAF CLUSTER

Major Alfred P. Ricci, 33 whose wife, the former Winona Chapin of Bethel, lives at 109 Colonial Road, Portland, has been awarded the third oak leaf cluster to the Bronze Star Medal for heroism against the enemy in Korea.

The Portland major, who recently arrived in the Far East, has been assigned to the Korean Military Advisory Group as a regimental advisor.

It was in that capacity that he displayed heroism by refusing to abandon an enemy-surrounded position, but instead stayed on despite dangerous odds and helped repulse a Korean force to reorganize and recapture lost ground.

Major Ricci was an army instructor for Massachusetts National Guard troops prior to going overseas. He is a veteran of World War II and served in Europe. He also wears the silver star medal.

PARENTS WARNED THAT

YOUNG DRIVERS LEARN

BY EXAMPLE

Many parents in Maine are about to experience an uneasy sensation. For the first time, they will hand over the car keys to a teen-age son or daughter.

If you haven't taught safety by example for years before," observes Col. Francis J. McCabe, Chief, Maine State Police, "a verbal admonition now probably won't be very effective.

Your children start learning to drive when they start riding with you. Their first safety lessons are learned by their observation of your driving. As you drive, so will they. See that you always obey traffic laws, caution! Col. McCabe, and make it your business to know and understand these laws so that you can explain them when the youngsters ask questions."

NO ONE AT FAULT BUT

DRIVER—WHEN HE SPEEDS

—AND DRIVES RECKLESSLY

Eighty-seven of Maine's 149 motor vehicle deaths in 1951 were caused by excessive speed or reckless driving," the Maine State Patrol tell us.

"Speeding and reckless driving is almost the driver's fault," stated Lieutenant John deWinter, Director Division of Traffic and Safety. "It is the duty of every driver to evaluate road, weather and traffic conditions and to gear his speed and manner of driving to fit those conditions.

"There is no excuse for reckless driving or excessive speed," continued the lieutenant. "No one has the legal or the moral right to risk his own life and property or the life and property of others by indulging in such driving practices.

If you want to live—and let live—drive cautiously...and SLOW DOWN!"

Business Unlimited

SOME four thousand years ago a man named Abram was faced with a serious business problem. He was a cattle raiser, and there was not enough grazing land to support his flocks and herds and those of his competitor, Lot. And just as today business problems are seldom simple, Abram's was complicated by strife between his employees and those of Lot.

This strife was more than competitive friction between two rival business organizations. It reflected the conflict between the standpoints of Abram and Lot. Lot trusted master; Abram trusted God, Spirit. Lot depended on material belief; Abram sought his solution through spiritual understanding.

Abram's first step was to make the following generous offer to Lot: "Separate thyself, I pray thee, from me; if thou wilt take the left hand, then I will go to the right; or if thou depart to the right hand, then I will go to the left" (Genesis 13:9).

And Lot, selecting the land that appeared best to his material sense, chose the well-watered plains of Jordan and departed. Beside eliminating the atmosphere of rivalry and antagonism, this step accomplished the removal of a wholly material sense of business. No solution to the problem of limitation could have been found as long as the spiritual and material viewpoints were associated. But when the separation had been made, Abram heard God's voice: "Lift up now thine eyes, and look from the place where thou art northward, and southward, and eastward, and westward; for all the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it" (Genesis 13:14, 15).

Abram must have lifted up his consciousness to Spirit, must have seen — that is, understood — the spiritual and unlimited nature of all that is good and necessary, for Abram, whose name was later changed to Abraham, was a successful and prosperous man.

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 544), "All is under the control of the one Mind, even God." Mind, all-knowing and unerring, is the exclusive creator of every right idea. Mind furnishes the vision essential to successful business, initiating and governing all true activity. Mind knows no imbalance between demand and supply, and the understanding of this provides business with vigor and continuity.

Why should the businessman over come limitation in God's way? By lifting up his thought to comprehend the infinite and available, all of that God gives to man. As divine Mind, God supplies right ideas in a never-ending stream. As immortal Soul, God furnishes unrestricted discernment and foresight. As divine Principle, God operates as the ceaseless, relentless law of harmony and perfection. As eternal Life, God unfolds endless vitality and measureless progress. As infinite Love, God provides unbounded inspiration. His inexhaustible realm of good is open to man.

Relying on God, the businessman hears His eternal direction and promise, "Arise, walk through the land in the length of it and in the breadth of it; for I will give it unto thee" (Genesis 13:17). Walking in the length and breadth of spiritual understanding, the businessman loses sight of the limitations of a purely commercial sense of business, becomes aware of new opportunities, fresh ideas, original thinking, and direct procedures, and discovers that his business is indeed unlimited.

THE PRESENT LESSON contrasts two rich men and reveals the difference between them. One was the rich young ruler who asked how to inherit eternal life; the other was the publican who climbed into a sycamore tree to see Jesus.

As the young ruler had doubtless inherited his riches, he seemed to feel that eternal life should be due him because of his keeping the Ten Commandments. But the ruler shows that he had not truly kept the commandments. He was not willing to give up his wealth for Jesus and to share with the poor.

Zacchaeus, the rich publican, was a small man in more ways than in stature. The day he saw Jesus he was "up a tree" literally and figuratively. He was so poor in reputation that his people despised him as a renegade Jew. He had become a tax-collector under the Romans and had used the opportunity to extort heavy amounts from the people. As he had probably bought the privilege of collecting taxes over a wide area, with no limitation set upon the amounts that he would collect, he had ample opportunity to collect large sums above the amount he had to pay to the Roman government. So he was rich, but he was not satisfied.

The greatest fault of a penetrating wit is to go beyond the mark. — Francis Due De La Rochefoucauld
